Chapter-11
Basic Environmental Regulation

Motivation

- Previously, we established that markets can allocate resources efficiently under certain conditions.
- We also discussed that due to certain issues, the role of government is critical in allocating environmental goods.
- The intensity of the intervention could vary across situations.
- Government could play a modest role in some scenarios, by only having

Consideration may move from the promisee or other person

It means that so long as there is consideration for promise, it is immaterial who has furnished it. It may move from the promisee, or from any other person if the promisor has no objection.

Case:
Chinnaya vs. Rammaya [1882]

An old lady, by a deed of gift made over certain property to her daughter D under the direction that she should pay her aunt, P (sister of the old lady), a certain sum of money annually. The same day D entered into an agreement with P to pay her the agreed amount. Later, D refused to pay the amount on the plea that no consideration had moved from P to D. Held, P was entitled to maintain the suit as
