3. To facilitate Departments to conduct seminars and academic festivals to encourage student interest in subjects and learn from international and national experts in various fields.
4. To continue Remedial Classes for students at the end of every semester.
5. To inculcate a greater sense of social responsibility in the students through more projects of service to society through NSS initiatives.
6. To install a set of security cameras to facilitate safety and discipline in college campus.

Dr. Mukesh Aggarwal chaired the meeting.

The meeting ended with vote of thanks to the chair.

The members reviewed the year's activities as follows:

1. As planned two Faculty Development Programmes (FDP's) workshop was held during the academic year. Keeping in mind the emphasis and need for awareness on latest research tools available for teachers and scholars, an FDP on 'Research Methodology' was conducted successfully. The second FDP was organized by the Commerce Department in collaboration with Ramanujan College on the topic 'Contemporary Business Environment' that generated a lot of interest from faculty members across various departments. Both the FDP's invited well – known speakers and experts in their respective fields.
2. In keeping with the idea of skill upgradation for non-teaching staff, a two-day workshop on 'LINUX' was conducted. The participants found the workshop of great use and actually applied the outcomes for ease – of- work and efficiency.

3. The English Department conducted the first international conference in the college inviting well-known speakers from abroad and from across the country. The two-day conference on the subject '21st Century Indian Woman: Representations and Expressions' brought forth vibrant discussions on issues related to gender across disciplines. Four international speakers presented papers and participated in panel discussions, while eminent experts and academicians delivered keynote addresses, lead discussions and chaired sessions in which 42 papers were presented.
4. Remedial Classes for students were conducted in the last week of the odd and even semesters at the end of every semester as they have proved to be useful in improving the overall results of the college and in making the students more confident of their knowledge.
5. The NSS established 'Astitva', as a project to provide free education to underprivileged children. The NSS students held classes for the children from nearby slums in the college and also provided them with study material. The project was greatly appreciated as very useful social service both by the college as well as the beneficiaries of the project.
6. All the members unanimously expressed satisfaction with the installation of six security cameras strategically placed throughout the college with the main control centre in the Principal's office. It was felt that the cameras provided better surveillance of the college campus.

The meeting ended with vote of thanks to the chair.
